Thank you Andy! Sally informed me of the situation, and of her plan to make sure your event happened as advertised. Despite all the right intentions, things happen. And, sometimes it's on our end. But, in either case the top priority is to make every effort to meet the needs of the customer. Sally does all in her power to attract more patrons to the pool, and to keep them coming back. So, we hope to see you again!

Thanks again for your thoughtfulness. We'll be sure to pass on your comments to Sally, Trent, and the rest of the pool staff.

Best Regards,

Subject: Greetings from Coastal Oaks Church!

Hello Mr. Wax & Mr. Staley,

My name is Andy Barlow & I work with students at Coastal Oaks Church here in Rockport. To my knowledge we've never met in person, but I wanted to take a minute and let you guys know about an awesome experience we recently had with the staff at the Rockport Aquatic Center.

To make a long story "email friendly," one of our staff members was tasked several weeks ago with booking a church-wide event for this past Sunday evening, Aug. 16th. Simply put, that staff member failed to complete the booking, even though we had been planning & publicizing in house for many weeks. We were made aware of this lapse by one of the lifeguards at the pool, a young man named Trent Grogan, who has connections to our student ministry and to some of our leaders/volunteers. He informed us that the booking was never completed, so our intern worked something out with him to allow us on-the-fly access to the pool that evening as we had been advertizing to our congregants.

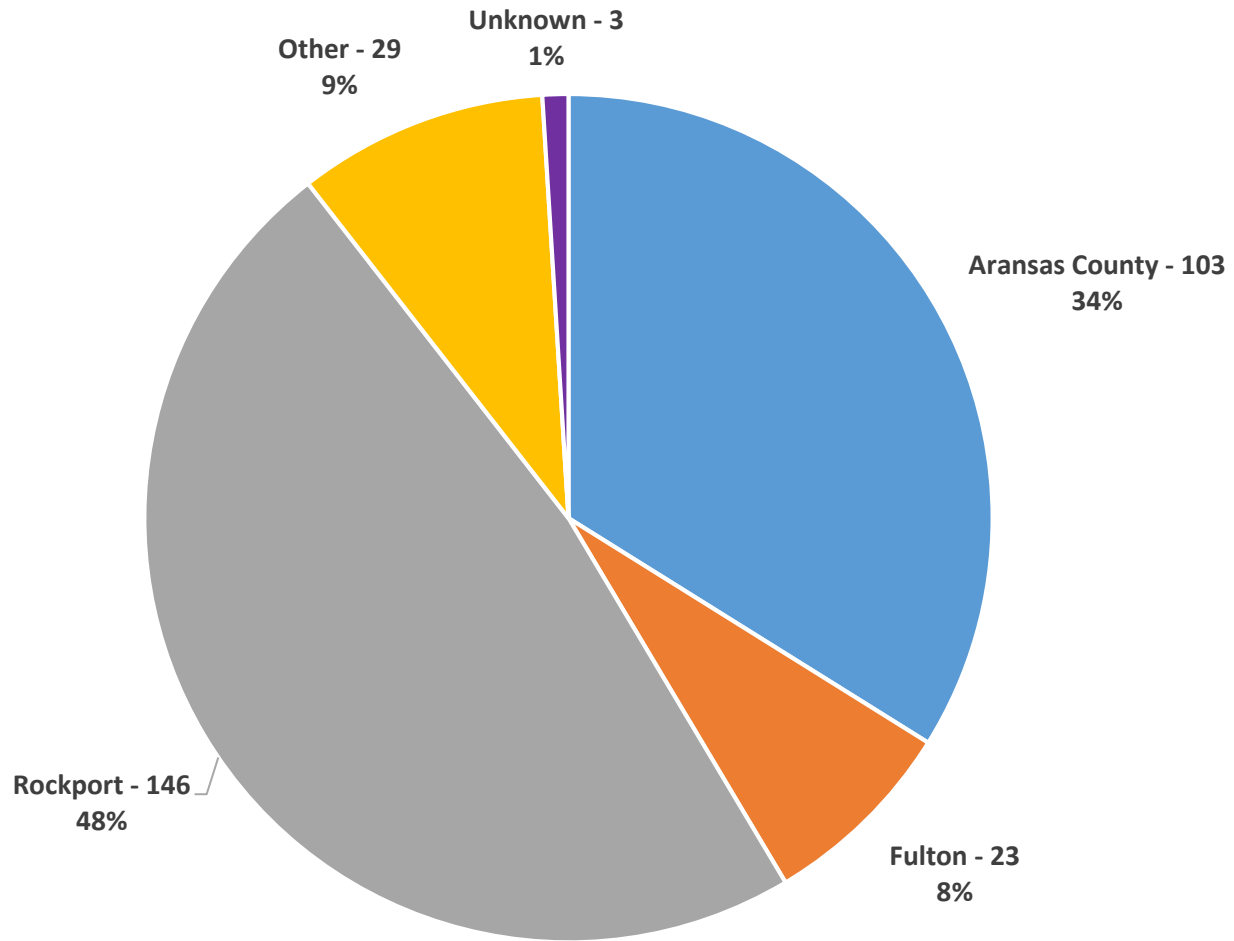

Pool Manager Sally Harper and Trent accommodated us fully even though we failed to properly complete the booking, and while this is commendable, what we most appreciated about the whole experience was that both Sally, Trent, and all of the staff on hand made us feel welcomed and honored. Although the lapse was ours in the booking, they were all smiles, welcoming us and making provision for the 100+ guests that arrived in our party. I never felt like we were a bother, and our people noticed it, too. Let me be clear - my desire in sending this email is to say more than a simple thank you; what I am telling you is that they went above and beyond, and the leaders and people of Coastal Oaks Church felt valued. For that, I am eternally grateful.

I pray this email finds you well today, and the rest of your week is spectacular as you serve the residents of Rockport, TX. :-)
